Re: House Bill 774 – Landlord and Tenant - Residential Leases and Holdover Tenancies -
Local Good Cause Termination (Good Cause Eviction) (SUPPORT)

The Consumer Protection Division of the Office of the Attorney General (the “Division”) supports House Bill 774 sponsored by Delegates Jheanelle K. Wilkins and Stephanie Smith. Presently, pursuant to Real Property Article § 8-402, a landlord can elect to not renew a tenancy for any reason at the end of a residential lease term. House Bill 774 seeks to permit local jurisdictions the freedom to adopt local “good cause” policies that would require a landlord to have good cause before electing not to renew a tenancy and displacing the tenant from the rental unit and the community. House Bill 774 also requires the Office of Tenant and Landlord Affairs to develop uniform forms for landlords to use when electing to not renew a tenancy.

Good cause requirements for lease non-renewal reduce unexpected displacements, providing tenants with security in their residences and communities and allowing tenants to avoid financially expensive disruptions in their living, working, and schooling. As a result, the American Bar Association in its eviction policy guidelines has recognized the importance of good cause in eviction legislation and recommended that all states and localities adopt good cause principals in their residential lease and eviction laws.¹

House Bill 774 is tailored to permit local jurisdictions the flexibility to adopt housing policies that are beneficial to their residents and communities. For these reasons, the Division requests that the Economic Matters Committee give House Bill 774 a favorable report.
