

To the Maryland Senate,

I'm writing to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 50 - Education - Interscholastic and Intramural Junior Varsity and Varsity Teams and Sports - Designation (Fairness in Girls' Sports Act).

For years now, I've had to watch as my elected officials from all sides of the aisle, and at every level of government, debate something that merits almost no discussion. Every year that goes by as this topic is rehashed over and over seems to reveal that the premise that transgender girls have some sort of biological advantage over cisgender girls in sports is further disproven. The latest piece of evidence to support this is a meta study showing that there is little support for the argument that transgender women have these meaningful, inherent advantages.

Let's just call this bill what it is: Discriminatory drivel that's entirely driven by hateful ideology.

Who's going to enforce this policy? Are medical professionals going to start having to do genital examinations on our young girls to prove they can kick a ball with other girls?

What evidence does this bring to the table other than feelings? Are the proponents of this bill producing anything substantial to back up their claims?

With all of the time spent on this bill and others like it that trivialize the transgender experience, are you actually accomplishing something that your children and grandchildren will be proud of?

I'm tired of this. Your constituents are tired of this. There are real problems plaguing this country, and many of those problems encroach on Maryland and your constituents. We want you to be out here solving these problems. It's time you stop legislating this meaningless nonsense, and then pretend that you're actually accomplishing something. I urge you to oppose this bill, and any others like it. Stop giving credence to these discriminatory flights of fancy, and keep doing the real work that Marylanders like myself elected you to do.

Sincerely,

Riley Bauer
